

SPRINGFIELD GLOBE-REPUBLIC.

SPRINGFIELD, O., MONDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 25 1886.

PRICE TWO CENTS.

The GLOBE, Vol. VII, No. 11
The REPUBLIC, Vol. XXII, No. 297

WEATHER FACTS.

SPRINGFIELD, O.,
October 25, 1886.

$5 SUITS

ALL THE WEEK.

The vast trade of the past few weeks having caused breaks in our lines of mens' suits for fall and winter wear, we take off the price on what remains of the following lots:

7771 Suits, $6.50 to $5.00
1550 " 10.00 to 5.00
7967 " 8.00 to 5.00
5719 " 6.00 to 5.00
8837 " 8.00 to 5.00
7475 " 8.00 to 5.00

The above broken line suits are not, understand, in complete lines of sizes. You may be thrice suited to once fitted. If, however, your size is among them, you need a substantial suit, you need money for something else, you are content upon taking a little valuable time to poke them over, our sort of dealing meets with your approval and so on, you are likely to be richly rewarded by coming to the

WHEN CLOTHING HOUSE

Some one day of this week.

The news of overcoats is timely; it's high time the old clothes' man had hours, and you were engaged in the pleasant task of renewing your age and appearance by the donning of fresh-made garments from the "WHEN" stock.

Here the prices and qualities are there as such as to almost force the exchange.

For $2½, for $3½, for $5, for almost any price until the very top round of quality is reached, this stock offers to the consumer advantages in coat buying such as no other dealer in Springfield is familiar with. See us all the winter through on overcoats.

If one needs (or thinks he needs) suits, overcoats or trousers to order, we'll turn out our custom tailors against anything in the land for style and workmanship, and guarantee our prices 25 per cent. below any competition here, there or anywhere.

Scotch caps are here direct from the makers' hands 35 and 40 cents each, instead of 75c and a dollar.

Gum coats from $2 to $7. The new tourist hat with dimple in the crown, $2.00; Derbys, $1.50 and $2.

OWEN BROS.,

Springfield's Only One Price Clothiers, 25 and 27 West Main St., Springfield, O.

SAGE CHEESE!

NORTON'S PICNIC

Pineapple Cheese

DUTCH HEAD CHEESE,

EDAM CHEESE!

Western Reserve Cheese,

And the Finest New York full Cream Cheese in the market.

RICH AND MILD

J. M. WIFFER

ARCADE GROCER,

NO. 13 EAST HIGH STREET.

DENTISTRY.

DR. J. C. OLDHAM,

DENTIST.

OPERATIVE DENTISTRY A SPECIALTY.

No. 9½ E. Main Street.

MRS. SPRAGUE AND KATE.

Governor Sprague's Second Wife Fires a Valley Into the "World" Newspaper at Katherine Chase.

The National Line Steamship, the Queen, on Fire and Sinking, at Liverpool Docks—Death, Today, of Mrs. A. T. Stewart.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The present wife of Governor Sprague sends a card to the "World," in which she says: When Kate Chase or her satellites put words into Governor Sprague's mouth it is incumbent on me to deny them publicly. Governor Sprague has never uttered a harsh word concerning her, but neither can he endorse the sentiments which she does not believe, wholly or in part. Katherine Chase has been assuring the public that she married Governor Sprague to further her father's political interests, thus martyring herself on the altar of matrimony. A publication purporting to have been an interview with Governor Sprague, but which, in reality, emanated from the same source as the rest, has demanded in justice to truth and decency, a denial in detail. I demand that she does not refer to my husband in any form without my authority. I demand that she, who she ever and will always command.

MEETING OF ANARCHISTS.

The Outrageous Utterances of an Innocent Speaker—An Appeal for the Deceased Brethren.
CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—A meeting of "prominent socialists" was announced to be held at 113 Halsted street, Sunday afternoon, to rally the county, congressional and state candidates of the so-called "united labor party." The attendance was a very limited one. J. P. Ducey made the principal speech. After advocating the claims of the candidates in question, Ducey alluded to the condemned anarchists. He said: Last week the "Car of Russia" killed one of his officers. Will he be brought before a court? No. Last week Phil Armour spent $5,000 a day for his Pinkerton men and killed one poor innocent man. Will he be brought before a court? No. Why, if Jesus Christ was brought before Judge Gary he would be convicted just as were those other Christians in jail. This is but the beginning of the end. The present course of this government must be stopped if we have to take it by the throat and choke out the foul life. Kings were arrested for making bombs. Why not arrest the man who made the Winchester rifles with which Armour murdered Bagley last week? The rope is already drawn with which capital will attempt to hang you and me if we attempt to tell the truth.

But we will tell the truth and we will not be hanged, but if necessary Armour will tell the truth. "The truth will be told," continued the speaker, "and I am one who will tell it, and I will tell it on the lake front next Sunday if I have to do it in front of a gallows gun and have a rope round my neck. If I have but one minute to live I will spend it in telling the truth. I am more radical than I speak, and when the time comes I and every other anarchist will be as radical as is necessary." The audience listened in silence to Ducey's speech and the meeting soon came to a close. The lake front referred to was the favorite gathering place for Parsons and Fielder's followers on Sunday preceding the Haymarket massacre.

Paymaster Myers Eldest Murdered or Missing—A Curious Case.
PANAMA, Oct. 25.—The Star and Herald says: Reports are circulated of the murder of John G. Myers, late of the United States army, and there seems to be foundation for them. He was supposed to have been shot on the board of the United States steamer Iriquois, but he left the vessel at Callao and it is said employed two guides to conduct him into the interior, for what purpose is not stated. It was charged that Myers had deserted and with him about $2,000 belonging to members of the ship's company. His friends, however, discredit the report of his death and state that his desertion from the ship was due to personal causes and not to dishonesty, that the men held his note for all the money he has belonging to them, that he has ample means to pay them, that the last heard of him was in January, was on his way home and would explain everything satisfactorily.

Big Soft Coal Pool.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 25.—The Post today says: A move is being made by a number of coal operators who use the railroads and have suffered to some extent by the fall of the past season, to pool the entire soft coal production of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia. The move is in the project of a general belief that the benefits to be derived from the pooling of the railroads carrying soft coal. The latter have entered into negotiations for the purpose of obtaining a settled percentage on their carrying trade. The project embraces the regulation of the price and production and the maintaining of rates and rates for mining and the amount of coal to be mined by each firm.

Locomotive Engineers.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The national convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, today, the discussion of ways and means for reducing the assessment in the insurance association was carried on with the result of discovering a general belief that the benefits to be derived from the pooling of the railroads carrying soft coal. The latter have entered into negotiations for the purpose of obtaining a settled percentage on their carrying trade. The project embraces the regulation of the price and production and the maintaining of rates and rates for mining and the amount of coal to be mined by each firm.

The Browns Win Another Championship.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 25.—The fifth game of the local championship series between the St. Louis league and American association base ball teams yesterday resulted in a victory for the latter, the sixth being six to five. This is the sixth successive defeat which the Browns have suffered at the hands of the Browns, and by it the latter team won the championship. They are now the champions of the city, of the American association, and of the world.

"The Queen" Burning.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 25.—The National Line steamer, the Queen, which arrived here Saturday from New York, is on fire. Several engines are pouring water on the flames. The steamer is gradually sinking from the weight of water thrown on her. The fire originated in the cotton stored on the stowage decks. In the No. 2 hold. The ship was filled with water and the flames extinguished.

Death of Mrs. A. T. Stewart.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Mrs. Stewart, wife of the late A. T. Stewart, died suddenly this morning at her residence, Thirty-fourth street and Fifth avenue.

Mrs. Stewart died this morning of congestion of the lungs and heart trouble. She had been suffering from a cold for three days.

Columbus Man in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—J. M. Ferry, Columbus, O., contractor, was a prisoner at the Armory police station this morning. He was arrested at the request of Ohio authorities. It is charged that he left Columbus suddenly, taking $700 which he should have paid his employees. He will be taken back this evening.

Tomatoes Not Fruit.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The treasury department has sustained the action of the collector of customs in New York in assessing a duty on tomatoes as vegetables. The importer claimed them to be exempt from duty as "fruit."

TWO LUNACY INQUESTS.

A Homeless German Girl and a South Charleston Man Who Was Once in the Asylum.

This morning Probate Judge Miller held an inquest into the person of Augusta Neus, a young German woman of about twenty-five years of age. The girl has only been in this country for a short time, and is homeless to such a degree that she has been somewhat unbalanced. She has been working for Frederick Reising, who keeps a boarding-house and saloon at 100 east Main street, and this morning attended to hang herself. Fortunately she took some weak string, for it was nothing more than strips of cloth tied together, that broke and she fell to the floor. It was the noise of the fall that attracted the family of the fact that anything was wrong. When they entered the room where the girl was, she was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her. Judge Miller thinks there will be no further trouble, as she seems to be delighted at the fact that she is no longer in the asylum. She was found with a string around her neck. Thos. Scherensmidt, living at No. 102 north Race street, has promised to send the girl back to her home in Germany, and the girl says she will behave herself, so the Probate Judge discharged her.